Mrs. Langtry came with her mother this time, but poor Langtry was left behind, and must grub for himself.

The democrats who are poking fun at the Ohio republicans will soon learn that the laugh comes in on the other side.]

St. Julien is on the "retired" list since Jay-Eye-See made 2:10. The little gelding will retire several others when the time comes.

As far as can be judged from judicious critical notices, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat is not far out of the way in this statement: "Mr. Henry Irving will charge $3 a seat for his New York performances—$2 for being an Englishman and $1 for being an actor."

The most observing man on the late Northern Pacific excursion was the Hon. Andrew Shuman, editor of the Chicago Journal. He has already written and printed nine columns of "travel gossip"—touching the excursion, and is not yet through. He puts his keen observations in brief notes, which are very gossipy and exceedingly interesting. No other gentleman connected with that famous excursion, has done the public quarter the service that Mr. Shuman has in writing up what was seen in a trip from Chicago to the Pacific and return. There are hundreds of little things as well as important incidents that Mr. Shuman has told us about, that prove very profitable reading.

The mayor of Madison has done a good thing for the morals of that city. He has refused to grant a license to the manager of the Jesse James company, on the ground that the tendency of the play is demoralizing. Mayor Conklin should be thanked by all the parents in Madison and by everybody who has a decent regard for the morals of the stage. The life of the bandit, filled with robberies and murders, is not a fit subject to be represented on the stage and before a crowd of boys and young men. Mayor Conklin has done his duty well, and the mayor of Milwaukee would have saved the moral sense of society of that city from being shocked, had he been as faithful to his trust as Mayor Conklin.

The statement is going the round by the press that Judge Parker, the republican candidate of Ohio, has a superstitious dread of the 9th day of October, the day on which the election was held and at which he was defeated. He didn't think he would be elected for the reason that the election fell on the 9th day of the month. On this day, when a child he fell from a walnut tree and broke his shoulder-blade; on the same date, while a young man, he lost a $100 on three-card monte; on the 9th of October, while in the army, he fell off a horse and had to go to the hospital for a month, and on the 9th of October, 1876, he lost an important lawsuit, which had changed the course of his life ever since. The election would have been all right, however, had Judge Hoody not been attacked by malaria.

Bradstreet's claims that the cotton crop this year will not be far from 35 per cent, less than it was last year—a falling off of 2,468,000 bales. That authority says in North Carolina there will be a falling off of 27 per cent; in Georgia, 33 per cent; in Florida, 23 per cent; in Louisiana, South Carolina and Texas, 40 per cent; there will be 35 per cent reduction in Alabama, 35 per cent in Arkansas, and 15 per cent in Tennessee. The crop of last year was 6,092,000 bales. The acreage in 1881 was 17,551,000; in 1882, 16,500,000 acres; this year it is 17,459,000 acres. On the strength of this report there has been an advance in the prices of some varieties of cotton goods. The agricultural department, on the other hand, estimates that this year's crop will be 5,088,000 bales or more than 1,200,000 in excess of Bradstreet's estimate.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette sorrowfully concludes, in view of the recent election in Ohio, that democratic discussions are a broken reed, and "so shattered that they should not fool republicans hereafter." Those discussions served a very good turn in 1860, and on several subsequent occasions, notably when John Kelly took the field for governor of New York. In politics, as in racing, there is such a thing as winning break, and in Hamilton county, democratic discussions proved, this time, the occasion for an unusually heavy vote on the state ticket. There was harmony on essentials. The Inter Ocean makes a very valuable and timely suggestion as follows: "The Commercial Gazette would do well to remember hereafter that the enemy in the field is the ticket of the opposition, and not a rival newspaper. Journalism in that city needs to rise above petty jealousies. The public once wearies of the personal feud business discussions of newspapers."

S. D. LOCKE IN POLITICS.

We notice from the Rensselaer County Standard (New York) that a former citizen of Janesville, Mr. S. D. Locke, has been nominated for the assembly by the republicans of the Hoosick Falls district. He is in a strong republican district, and therefore will be elected. In the Standard, we find a brief sketch of this successful business man. He began life in New York as a poor boy, and unaided has worked his way up to competency and his present honorable position, and is an example of what in this country any honest, energetic boy, however humble, may hope to become. Coming west in 1836, he was, until the financial crash of 1857 crippled the road, a civil engineer on the Wisconsin Central railway. Going south in the fall of 1857 he assumed the position of principal of a seminary in Columbus, Ky., which position he held until his return to Wisconsin in 1859. Entering in that year the law office of Bennett, Cassoday & Gibbs in Janesville, he was admitted to the bar in 1861. At the outbreak of the rebellion in April, 1861, he volunteered for the war, but failing to get into the service, his company was disbanded in August and Mr. Locke accepted the office of county surveyor of Rock county, which office and that of city engineer of Janesville, he continued to fill for eight years or until his removal to Hoosick Falls in the spring of 1869.

Perhaps Mr. Locke will be best known to the world as the inventor of the grain binder, as he has the distinguished honor of producing the first successful automatic binder ever made. For more than ten years previous to his removal to New York all of his spare time and money were given to the perfection of this machine, and his removal there was occasioned by an arrangement whereby Walter A. Wood became a willing aider in the enterprise. The binder has become one of the most successful in the United States, and has brought the patentee a handsome fortune.

Butler and the Greenbackers.

Boston, Oct. 15.—In his letter accepting the nomination for Governor by the Massachusetts Greenbackers, Governor Butler, after congratulating the party on the success of their fight against hard money, says that four years ago "our currency and our debt was a contrivance to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. Let us abolish all other contrivances, such as watering stocks, bogus mortgages on railroads, and fictitious valuations of the property of incorporated companies, by which money, without proper equivalent for it, is taken from one and given to another. We are not enemies of honest capital. We are its true friends, because if capital suffers itself to become the oppressor of an educated, intelligent and free people, such oppressor will be surely swept away, and who shall say that in such case it ought not to be?"

is not whiter than teeth that are daily rubbed with soapstone, and coral gathered in ocean depths cannot surpass the hue of green frosted from snow-capped peaks. The snow of Mont Blanc is the most salutary agent. American ladies visiting foreign lands, excite the admiration of beholders and the envy of their transatlantic sisters, with the surprising excellence of their teeth. When asked to what they owe this change, they murmur the talismanic word—snow.

CIVIL RIGHTS.

An Important Decision Rendered by the United States Supreme Court.

Two Sections of the Act to Compel Recognition of Negroes Declared Void.

Only the States Affected by the Finding—Justice Harlan the Only Dissident.

Set Back for Years.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—In the Supreme Court Justice Bradley delivered the decision of the United States vs. Samuel D. Singleton, involving the constitutionality of the act of Congress of March 1, 1875, entitled: "An act to protect all citizens in their civil and legal rights." He decided that the first and second sections of the act are unconstitutional. Justice Bradley took the ground that the scope of the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Amendments did not extend to the social privileges sought to be guaranteed by the legislation in question. The court was unanimous with the exception of Justice Harlan, who said that under ordinary circumstances he would be slow to oppose his individual judgment to his colleagues, but this decision defeated what they intended to secure and supposed that had they secured it, hence his dissent from the opinion. He had not time to formulate his views, however, and would now therefore merely announce his dissent. Quite a number of prominent lawyers were within the bar to listen to the opinion, including the Attorney-General and Senators Bayard and Garland.

The decision will apply to the five civil rights cases in that court based on the first and second sections of the Civil Rights act of March 1, 1875. They are respectively: proceedings under the act for not admitting certain colored persons to equal accommodations and privileges in inns and hotels, in railroad cars and theaters. The constitution, as stated, that Congress has no authority to pass the sections in question under either the Thirteenth or Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution. The decision, however, is held to apply only to the validity of the law in the States and not in the Territories or District of Columbia, where the legislative power of Congress is unlimited.

The decision is based on the ground that in passing the act Congress usurped the power which belongs exclusively to the State Legislatures. The Thirteenth and Fourteenth Amendments give no power to Congress, because the former is a stopping-place for slavery, which it abolishes, having nothing to do with different races or colors, and the latter is prohibitory upon the States only, and forbids them from making certain laws. If they do make them, Congress is empowered to make laws to counteract their effect, and this is all the law Congress is able to make on the subject. It has no authority to directly legislate upon it.

Frank Douglas, when asked what he thought of the decision, said: "It is disappointing, and I regard it as a step backward. The result will be mischievous. At the close of the war, and in view of the serious condition of the colored people, a disposition on the part of the country to concede to them complete citizenship and equal civil rights in the use of all public conveyances and institutions. I regarded this decision as a part of the general reaction, and a return to the old feeling of hostility between the North and South, which comes of the dying out of the old controversy on the subject of slavery. Nearly all the concessions the colored people have received have been the result of the antagonism of the two sections. I do not despair, however, of the ultimate return of a liberal spirit toward the colored people. I think the decision confounds social with civil rights. Social equality does not result from riding on the same car with a man or buying goods at the same store. The decision places the American people far in the rear of the civilized nations of Europe. The doctrine is in violation of the spirit of Christianity, the spirit of the age, and in violation of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments. It tends to weaken the spirit of patriotism which the nation may need in some hour of peril."

Prof. John M. Langston, Minister to Hayti, is the man who drew, at the request of Charles Sumner, the act of which the two sections were declared unconstitutional.

He says: "I am surprised and deeply disappointed at the decision, but, in fact, the Civil Rights act gave us no rights, which he did not already have under the Constitution. We have been with or without the act equal rights in this country, and the courts of the States should give them to us. If they do not, then Congress has power under the amendments to legislate so that they will be compelled to do so. The result, therefore, will be simply to bring the matter before Congress, contrary to the decision is the subject of universal comment here, and it is safe to say that no other decision of the court since the famous Dred Scott decision by Chief Justice Taney has created so much excitement and discussion."

State Taxation of Railroads.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court announced that, at the request of the Illinois in the important tax case of the county of San Matteo against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the case would be restored to its place on the docket, to await the hearing of other cases involving the same, or nearly the same, questions. The other cases are those relating to State taxation of corporations, recently decided by Justice Field in the United States Circuit Court for the District of California.

Land Claim.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 16.—Considerable excitement has just been created in Texarkana by the filing of a title deed, in the name of Joseph F. and John C. Kirby, to 241 acres of land, including most of the land on which the Arkansas side of Texarkana is built. Saturday J. N. Smith, of Little Rock, went down and filed the deed, under an old survey, and it is understood that possession will soon be given.

$60,000 Refused for a Great Trotter.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Several gentlemen who were in the office of the driving park, Saturday, say that a capitalist from Minneapolis, tendered J. L. Case $60,000 for the wonderful trotter, Jay-Eye-See, but Mr. Case refused the offer with the remark that nothing under $100,000 would tempt him to sell.

VISITING BATTLE-FIELDS.

Federal and Ex-Confederate Veterans at Ball's Run and Adjacent Grounds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The visit Monday of the veterans who took part in the Bull Run battles of 1861 and '62 to that historic battle-ground was a complete success. The party, numbering about one hundred and fifty veterans of the rank and file of the Federal Army from many different States, some of whom had fought in both battles, left here early in the morning by train for Wellington, near Manassas, Va. Reaching Wellington about ten a.m. they were met by General Longstreet, Colonel Burket, Major Thornton, and a number of other ex-Confederate officers. Conveyances were in waiting, and the party spent the remainder of the day visiting the scenes of triumph and disaster of twenty years ago. Groveton, Sudley's Church, Stone House and Henry's Hill were visited, and the respective positions and movements, defeats and victories of brigades, divisions and armies were pointed out by General Fairbairn, of Wisconsin, then a Colonel in King's famous Iron Brigade, by Commissioner Dudley, of the Pension Office, then a Captain in the same brigade, and by General Longstreet, Major Thornton and others who were on the Confederate side. Returning to Manassas about six p.m. the Union veterans did farewell to their Confederate friends, and reached home about nine o'clock at night. General Rosecrans and several other distinguished Federal officers who served in the West and Southwest during the war accompanied the party.

YOUNG LIVES CRUSHED OUT.

Three Children and Their Attendant Killed on a Railroad Track.

CONNEVILLE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Three children, and a young woman who had them in charge, were discovered Monday afternoon on the track of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad near this town by the engineer of a train as he rounded a curve. It was too late even to sound a whistle of warning, and the pilot struck the little crowd of pedestrians, crushing and mangleing their bodies in a terrible manner. The train was checked at once, and the dead and dying victims gathered up and brought to Conneville, where their relatives reside. The names of the victims are as follows: Margaret Curran, aged seventeen, head split open; she lived an hour after the accident. Alice King, aged five, a little bruise on the temple was the only external wound; lived about twenty minutes after the accident. Mary Farrell, aged ten, skull crushed in and bruised; death ensued instantly. Daniel Farrell, brother of Mary, aged seven, skull crushed, back and legs broken, and body much bruised and mangled; killed instantly. The Farrells were the children of a widow. Alice King was a daughter of Harry King, a young machinist in the Baltimore & Ohio shops, and Margaret Curran was her aunt. The children had been out walking with Miss Curran, and had just stepped off the west-bound track to avoid a passing freight train, when they were caught by the east-bound passenger train.

Commercial Disasters.

ELGIN, Ill., Oct. 16.—Charles S. Kilbourn has failed for a large amount, estimated at from $20,000 to $40,000. He ran two cheese factories, one at Dundee and one at Barrington. Mr. Kilbourn is one of the managers of the Elgin Milk Company, Chicago. His chief creditors are patrons of the both and the Elgin First National Bank. Both factories are closed, and there is considerable excitement.

New York, Oct. 15.—The Dry Goods Commercial Agency reports that Hyams Brothers, a large firm of New York and San Francisco, in the wholesale clothing trade, has failed, with liabilities of $250,000. There are rumors, as yet unconfirmed, of a still larger failure in the same line.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The Hampshire Manufacturing Company (limited), manufacturers of cotton goods, is reported in financial difficulty. The assets have not been ascertained. The liabilities are estimated at $75,000. A judgment for $51,000 has been rendered.

Crazed With Pain.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—While John Bley and James Maloney, two switchmen, were repairing damages to a freight car attached to a train standing at Derry Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, the engineer started the train, not being aware of their presence under the car. Bley was crushed and mangled beyond recognition and died instantly. Maloney was crushed against the tender of the engine, his scalp almost torn from his head, and one arm and one leg broken. The train was quickly stopped and Maloney carried to the engine and laid upon the floor. The train started, but Bley's remains and were carried then toward the engine, when they were horrified-stricken to see Maloney, crazed with pain, suddenly jump and throw the throttle-valve wide open. The engine started with fearful rapidity down the grade. When Maloney was reached, six miles from the scene of the accident, Maloney closed the valve and fell unconscious to the floor of the cab. He was picked up and taken to the hospital, where he shortly afterward died.

General Sherman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—General Sherman has selected Colonel Tourtelotte and Colonel Bacon as members of his staff to remain with him in St. Louis, after being relieved from the command of the army, and until he is placed on the retired list. General Peo, of his staff, will resume his duties in the Engineer Corps, and General Tidball, another mid-die-camp, has been assigned to the command of the Artillery School at Fortress Monroe. General Sherman has gone to Cleveland to attend the reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee.

Took His Own Life.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 15.—William Chapman, a wealthy farmer and an old settler at White Fenitor, at the Mackinac division of the Michigan Central Railroad, went into a barn, attached a rope to a beam, and jumped off. The drop broke his neck, and when discovered the tongue protruded a considerable distance. The features being terribly distorted. An inquest was held, and the evidence elicited showed the deceased to have been temporarily insane, caused by religious excitement.

The Lunar Eclipse.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The air was very clear last night, and the partial eclipse of the moon was plainly visible. About eleven o'clock a dim shadow, which looked like fog, could be seen within a few degrees of the moon's center from the city. The shadow gradually became more distinct, and the sharp of the earth on the moon's surface became visible to the naked eye about 10 p.m. A small telescope or piece of smoked glass made it quite distinct.

The Murderer of Ada Atkinson, the Indiana Maiden, Behind the Bars.

Full Confession of Jacob Nelling, One of the Men Employed by the Victim's Father.

The Life of the Prisoner Threatened by Crowds of Wildly-Excited Men.

The Dead Body of a Young Girl Found in a Street at Lincoln, Ill.—A Ghastly Sight.

The Ada Atkinson Murder.

NELLING AND LADD EXAMINED. J. H. Fowler, Ind., Oct. 10.—The report that Jacob Nelling and Jacob Ladd were to have a preliminary trial came as a large crowd to the court-house Monday. Excitement ran high, and was intensified by the fact that Nelling had made some disclosures to Harris, the Chicago detective, that would throw some light upon the murder. When Nelling was placed upon the stand he exhibited much nervousness, and was extremely pale, but gave in his evidence with the same sang-froid that he has characterized all his examinations heretofore.

His evidence was substantially the same as has already been published in the written statement he is said to have made to Detective Harris and Coroner Hiltz. Ladd was upon the stand and swore positively that he had not seen Nelling during the afternoon of the murder, and had not held any conversation with him at any time regarding any member of the Atkinson family, or that he ever said there was a woman in Oxford, who wished "an earthquake would swallow Ada up as she was in her way." A good deal more evidence was given, but nothing was divulged.

NELLING CONFESSES. LATER—Coroner Hiltz and Detective Harris have just come from the jail, where they had gone at the request of Nelling, who wished to make a statement. The result of which is given in his own words: "I withdrew all charges made by me against Ladd and should shoulder the responsibility myself."

Crowds of people are gathering at Fowler, the supposed object being violence to Nelling and Ladd.

The List Swelling.

ANOTHER YOUNG GIRL SLAUGHTERED. LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 10.—Monday morning, about nine o'clock, the dead body of Zora A. Burns, twenty years of age, was found on Sumner street, near the city limits, with her throat cut from ear to ear. The forehead crushed in and contusions on the face. The dead was committed Sunday night in an isolated place. The victim had worked for a family here up to last June, when she went to Vandalia, Ill. She returned last Saturday morning, and engaged a room at a hotel for the day. That evening she left her room, and was not seen again until found as above described. Buggy tracks were found near the spot where she lay, having the appearance of being made during the night. She is supposed to have been taken to the place where she was found and thrown out. A post-mortem examination revealed the fact that she was strangled. She was known to have been engaged to a young man to whom she was married. Her father, who lives in St. Elmo, Ill., has a brother, a telegraph operator in Colorado. Two theories are maintained here: one, that her lover was annoyed by her resistance to have a marriage ceremony performed, and rather than force her to conclude to take her life. The other is that a married man was the cause of her downfall, and to save himself he engaged a man to put her out of the way. The most intense excitement prevails.

NULLIFICATION IN UTAH.

Governor Murray Forewarns Another Irrepressible Conflict. WASATCH, Oct. 10.—Governor Murray, of Utah, who has sent his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, states that there has long existed in Utah a combination to nullify the laws of Congress. This conspiracy is to open rebellion at one time, and continues to evade and defeat the plain will of Congress. He urges that Congress take some action to secure government, and not rely upon "time and tattle" to effect the desired reforms. He goes on to speak of the dangers of another irrepressible conflict, and says that the military Territory is not available. He recommends that the United States military be made available. The report states that the unlawful Territorial Government, which for over thirty years has existed in the face of Congress and the country, exists to this day. He says the report states many bold "offices who are not under the law entitled to vote. The report recommends additional legislation by Congress.

Wire-Tappers Not Yet Discovered.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The tapping of the wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company last Saturday, by means of which bogus dispatches were sent all over the country, announcing false results of the Jerome Park races, and through which nearly $100,000 were lost by pool-sellers, remains as much of a mystery as ever. The Western Union is making a strict inquiry made into the affair, and if the guilty parties are discovered, they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Ex-pool-sellers or employees of pool-sellers are believed to have planned the fraud.

Destructive Fire.

WATSEKA, Ill., Oct. 10.—A. M.—A destructive fire is now raging in this city. Stephens Brothers' hardware store, Weston & Co.'s furniture store, Johnson's barber-shop, La Shout's restaurant, Baldwin's bakery, Shady's undertaking, Wagner's grocery, Smith's meat market, and the city hall, are all burning. The fire started in the city hall, and spread to the other buildings. The losses will reach $250,000. Very little insurance is held. The fire originated in Weston's furniture store and a west wind spread the flames.

Fifteen Persons Poisoned.

CHICAGO, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Fifteen persons were poisoned at a birthday party given at the residence of Charles Tabor, of this place, from eating canned food. One lady was reported as dying at one time, and many of the others are seriously ill. The cause of the poisoning is attributed to the soldering on the cans.

Why is it so many suffer from rheumatism, sciatica, kidney diseases, liver complaints, heart affections, etc.?

It is simply because they will not come and use Dr. Brown's Iron Bitters. All disease begins from a want of iron in the blood. This want of iron makes the blood thin, watery and impure. Impure blood carries weakness and distress to every part of the body. Supply this lack of iron by using Dr. Brown's Iron Bitters and you will soon find yourself enjoying perfect freedom from aches, pains and general ill-health. Mr. Peter Eisenberger, Herman, Wis.

Dr. Brown's Iron Bitters has cured me of rheumatism of long standing. Mr. John Peterson, Wilson, Wis., says: "I found great relief from rheumatism by using Dr. Brown's Iron Bitters."

SERIOUS PANICS.

Forty Women Killed and Thirty Injured by a Stampede in a Jewish Synagogue. Children Hurt in a School-Room Panic. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 10.—During services in the Jewish synagogue at Ziwonka, in the Government of Padolia, on Saturday, a false alarm of fire was raised in the women's gallery, which caused a panic. The people rushed for the door, where they were killed and thirty others injured.

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 10.—An alarm of fire was raised in the Elm Street School, and 600 children rushed down the stairs in a panic. Many were knocked down and trampled upon, and one girl had her collar bone broken; another an eye badly cut, and a third is insensible and has severe internal injuries. Many others were bruised. The fire caught in the waste-paper room, near the furnace, and was easily subdued.

DROSTON, Oct. 10.—The steamer Julia, a small boat chartered to convey passengers for Providence, via the Stonington Line, attempted to enter Stonington, Friday, Sunday morning, and ran ashore, knocking a hole in her bottom and causing a panic among a large number of passengers. Many dived overboard. Order was restored by the appearance of small boats and a revenue cutter, and the passengers were landed at Stonington. No one was injured. The boat was badly damaged.

MR. TILDEN'S FRIEND.

H. B. Payne, of Ohio, to Succeed Pendleton and Go Up Higher in 1884.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Tribune has the following from Cincinnati: "There is considerable excitement here in political circles over the Senatorial middle. It was all along thought that 'Boss' Farley had been working in the interests of Cook's (the Senatorial candidate) and that the name has been used as a blind, and that the real candidate is none other than Henry B. Payne, who is not only anxious for the Ohio Senatorship, but who is to be put forward by his friends for the Presidential nomination in 1884. It is said that Mr. Payne will have the entire Northern Ohio Democratic members of the Legislature solid. His friends are confident of his success."

"Among the young Republicans of this city there is a good deal of speculation about Ohio's choice for the Presidency, and there is some talk about the organization of clubs favorable to Robert Lincoln, of Illinois."

Arrival of Mrs. Langtry.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Langtry, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. DeLeon, arrived Sunday evening on the steamer Oregon, a tug boat chartered by her manager, Charles Mendham, carrying a number of reporters and acquaintances of Mrs. Langtry. The beauty is in excellent health, and expressed her pleasure to return to this country. She brings with her the play "Peril," new in this country, in which she will open in Burlington, Vt.

A Negro Inherits a Fortune.

CALDWELL, O., Oct. 10.—Frank Jackson, a poor negro of this place, has fallen heir to $50,000 by the death of an aunt in New York. A lawyer from that city has arrived to notify him.

Extraordinary bargains in hannels and waterproofs at Archie Reid's.

New MILLINERY—Miss Roswell has recently returned from Chicago with a full line of the latest styles of hats, feathers, fancy birds, etc., which will be sold at the lowest prices.

The biggest kinds of bargains in dress goods and silks now at Archie Reid's.

For making low prices on dollmams, cloaks, etc., Archie Reid still holds the lead. "Largest stock in Janesville."

A single man wants a furnished room without board, in a central location for eight or ten weeks. Address, giving particulars, room. Care Gazette.

If you want Blankets or comforters at the very lowest prices. Go to Archie Reid's.

$2.50 will buy a pair of fine boots at John Monaghan's.

Notices.

THE INQUEST.

Testimony of Joseph McDonald, Hear Foreman of the South-bound Train.

Most of the witnesses present on Friday at the inquest on the body of the fireman Witt before Justice Wickham, returned from Baraboo at 10:30 this morning, and the examination was resumed.

Joseph and Edward McDonald, the brakemen on the south-bound train, were present. The telegraph operator at Afton testified concerning the receipt of orders from the train dispatcher at Baraboo, which were for Cook's and Ward's wild trains going north to meet and pass Donahue's wild train south at Hanover; and that immediately after Cooke and Ward had left, he received a dispatch to send Lewis' engine to call them back to Afton. That Lewis succeeded in stopping Ward; that Ward detached his engine and put ahead to catch Cooke, but did not succeed. The evidence of the operator goes to confirm that the north bound trains were running under orders all right.

Dr. L. J. Barrow testified as to the condition of the body of the deceased when examined by him at Afton on Saturday morning.

Joseph McDonald, who was sworn, is a young man of about twenty-five, light complexion, medium height and build. He appeared to be rather slow of comprehension, but gave his testimony in a straightforward manner. He denies that the conductor, Donahue, told him to hold the train at Footville. He says Donahue simply told him to stop the train, that there were orders for them there. He saw nothing of the operator, and don't know how Donahue discovered that as there was no red light there, Donahue went into the telegraph office and he went into the engine house to get his lunch, and while eating it, the train started up. He supposed Donahue had got the orders and taken them on the engine. He went out and saw some one in the engine house and thought it was Donahue. He got off, placed the switch after they passed it, got in the caboose again and rode to Hanover. There he set five or six brakes to stop the train at the crossing. After starting again at the crossing he commenced to let the brakes off and then changed his mind, beginning in doubt whether the conductor was on the engine. He set the brakes again, and signalled to the head brakeman to stop, but he didn't see the signal and went down upon the engine. McDonald says "I thought then it was all right, so I let off the brakes and went back into the caboose." Being asked why the fact that the head brakeman didn't see his signal to stop reassured him, he answered that he didn't know.

The Footville operator was at the wreck, and told him he thought he heard Donahue tell him to hold the train but McDonald never told him any such thing. When he first saw Bennett, the engineer, after the wreck, Bennett said "How in hell did this happen, Joe?" and he replied "I don't know; I never gave no go ahead signal." Bennett said somebody gave it?

The examination is being continued this afternoon and will perhaps not be finished to-night.

The best on earth can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve, which is sure cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds, and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and skin eruptions. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25 cents. For sale by Stearns & Baker.

Common Council.

For want of a quorum the regular meeting of the city council was not held last evening. At the appointed hour, 7:30 o'clock, President Kenyon dropped the gavel, and the clerk called the roll, when Aldermen Kenyon, McLean, Potter and Smith answered to their names, not being a quorum present, the president declared the council adjourned.

No sooner had this been accomplished than a sufficient number of aldermen arrived to make a quorum; but it was too late. They had overlooked the fact of a change in the time of meeting from 8 to 7:30 o'clock. A special meeting will undoubtedly be called some night this week, there are some important matters to be attended to.

AMUSEMENTS.

LIGHTS OF LONDON.

The audience at the opera house last night to witness the first production of the "Lights of London" was a credit to Janesville. The house was full—gallery and all—and was intelligent and appreciative as it was large. The "Lights of London" is a specially strong melodrama, with emotional situations, and a plot that is effective and easily followed. The scenery is magnificent, but this is not the only merit in the entertainment. The play is as good as the play. Combining the whole, the large audience last night witnessed one of the best entertainments ever given in this city.

It would be impossible, without intruding upon our space, to give each actor the notice he deserves. All were good and especially "Joe" and "Mrs. Jarvis" of "Jarvis Temple of the Legitimists." These were among the comedians of the company, and were simply "splendid."

The scenery was the best by all odds ever placed in the opera house. When the curtain rose and gave the park and grounds of Armitage hall, the audience broke out in spontaneous applause. There were several other beautiful stage settings, and among them was the road from Clutham to London in the snow and moonlight, and particularly fine was Regent's park and ships by moonlight. The play will be reproduced this evening, and those who were not present last night should not fail to improve the opportunity to see this evening.

EMERALDA.

That beautiful drama which everybody admires—Emeralda—will be given at the opera house next Thursday evening by the Madison Square company. It would be idle to say even a word about this remarkable drama. It is praised by everybody who has seen it, and it has never failed of large houses. Reserved seats can now be had at Prentice & Evenson's.

A cross woman with aching head and blistered hands; a house in general disorder with a "sunday" smell pervading everything; cold meals and colder comfort, need to be the lot of mankind on washing day. Not so now in the thousands of homes where James Foley's "Pearline" is used. Compared with the old line, washing is a delight where the "Pearline" is used. From an economical point of view, it cannot afford to get along without it, and the saving of the nerves is a more important item than the saving of the clothing, and "Pearline" saves both.

WE HAVE COME TO STAY—The roller skating rink under the new management, will be open every afternoon from 2:30 o'clock to 4:30 and every evening from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Sudden Death.

Mrs. Mary Murry, aged 68 years, mother of Peter, Edward and William Murry and Mrs. Thos. McConn, died suddenly of apoplexy, at her residence near the north end of Pleasant street, Sunday forenoon. She performed her usual household duties in the morning and was preparing to attend church, and about 10 o'clock seemed to have a rush of blood to her head and was in great distress for a few minutes, and asked her sons Edward and William, who had been holding her and butting her head, to "place her on her bed, which they did, when she expired almost immediately. Mrs. Murry was an old resident of this place, and many friends will be pained to hear of her death. Her funeral will be held at the Catholic church to-morrow forenoon at 10 o'clock. —Beloit Free Press.

Rock River Drying Up.

Special Dispatch to the Sunday Telegraph. Below, Oct. 13.—Rock River is very low and the manufacturers on the water power are troubled for the want of sufficient power. This has not been the case before for a long time and the same complaint is made at Janesville.

Upon the authority of several of our water power men, we are authorized to contradict the above statement, and to state that there is a higher stage of water in Rock river at the present time, (and has been during the entire season) than has been known for a number of years. There has not been a day this summer but that a solid sheet of water poured over the upper dam, giving all the mills and factories a full head. There must be something wrong with the Beloit man.

Injured by An Internal Machine.

The Beloit Free Press of Monday: "Mr. L. Wickham, who lives on Pleasant street above the paper mill, met with a very serious and painful accident last evening caused by an explosion, under the following circumstances:

He was sitting in his house about seven o'clock and handling a peculiar looking copper shell about an inch and a half in length and a quarter of an inch in diameter, which was found among some paper stock by an employee at the east side paper mill some two months ago and given him, and he had since carried it in his pocket. One end of the shell was open and it seemed to be empty, excepting that there was something white in the bottom of it. Mr. Wickham, for no particular reason, attempted to remove the white stuff and began picking it with a sharp pin, when there was a loud report, fairly jarring the building and stunning the occupants of the rooms. As soon as the shock was over Mr. Wickham realized that he was badly hurt upon both hands and his face, and started for a physician, fortunately coming across Dr. Breton, who had just been dressing the Keenan boy's injury.

It was found that Mr. Wickham's fingers were terribly mutilated, the ends up to the first joint of the thumb and two first fingers of his left hand were actually blown off, while the thumb and one finger of his right hand were badly torn. Besides this, his face was much cut and a hole was made in his cheek under the left eye.

The cartridge, or torpedo, or whatever the infernal machine might be called, flew through the wall of the room as though it were a bullet. Mr. Wickham says that the shell was not like a pistol cartridge and looked more like the top of a lead pencil than anything he can think of. His wife was standing by him when the explosion took place but was not hurt.

MR. CURTIS IN MILWAUKEE.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of Monday, speaks of Sumnerfield's new pastor, as follows:

"I enjoy a rare pleasure," said Rev. J. E. Gilbert, at the Sumnerfield Methodist church, yesterday morning, as he leaned over the desk and looked about the crowded house, "in introducing, for the first time in my life, my successor, and I pray that he may be a blessing to you, and you a blessing to him."

It was Mr. Gilbert's last appearance, for the present at least, as a preacher in the church, he intending to leave during this week for his new field of labor in Michigan. Upon the platform with him was Rev. Olin A. Curtis, the incoming pastor from the Court Street church—Janesville, who was referred to by Mr. Gilbert as his successor. The latter conducted the opening exercises, leaving it for Mr. Curtis to speak his first words in the sermon. The text was taken from John 17, and from it the reverend gentleman drew an ideal preacher's picture. The discourse was eloquent and impressive; there being no attempt at rhetorical effects, but an earnest, heart-felt simplicity carried through every word. "The ideal preacher," as Rev. Mr. Curtis drew him, was one having confidence in himself as bearing a message from God, a man true and honest, believing in the glory of his mission. He must be true to his own life, even if it be small, as God made and sent him out to preach His word. The close was an expressed wish by the speaker that God would so help him to be himself and bear the divine message, that at the end of his service, his hearers could repeat the words of the text with a personal application to him. The first appearance of Rev. Mr. Curtis was met by prominent members of the church, and by pressing his hand and address taking place, and on the hearts and minds of all present."
